

Taking aim

More than 200 archers from across the country competed in the 2008 Rinehart Canadian 3D Archery Championships in Dauphin this past weekend. The event featured three courses with a total of 80 targets plus a Grand Prix, during which archers shot downhill at targets set up on the main stage at the Selo Ukraina amphitheatre. For more on the national championships, please see page B1.

- Doug Zywina/Herald

Leanne Straker, of Team Manitoba takes aim during the Grand Prix; where the top 8 adult shoot from each shooting stake (compound and recurve) shoot off. This is a spectator event